

Adams County Sheriff's Office -- 150th Anniversary (2021)

The office of sheriff traces its roots to 9th century England. The kingdom was divided into geographic areas called "shires". A "reeve" was appointed in each region to serve as peacekeeper, tax collector, jailor and process server for the King's Court. Over time, the words were contracted into "shire-reeve", and eventually into "sheriff". The shire-reeve concept spread through the British Empire, including the American Colonies. Virginia was home to the first appointed sheriff in 1634 and the first elected sheriff in 1652. Today there are 3,083 county and parish sheriffs in the U.S., 98% being elected by citizens.

When Adams County government was organized at Juniata in December 1871, Isaac W. Stark was chosen as the first sheriff. Buffalo hunting was not an official duty, but in 1872 Sheriff Stark took part in a hunt with six others near the Little Blue River.

Early sheriffs worked out of offices rented by the county. By 1881, an addition to the Farrell Block (or stone block) was built to serve as the first actual county courthouse. These county offices would see a murder suspect taken from deputies by an angry mob and lynched north of town and the shooting death of a rape suspect right in the courtroom. A brand-new courthouse was constructed 1889-1890 (where the city parking lot is today), and served until 1964.

Sheriff James McCleery, elected in 1905, was the first Adams County sheriff to utilize automobiles (albeit borrowed).

In 1967, the sheriff's office took over ambulance services for the county after the funeral homes abandoned such services.

In celebrating 150 years of service to Adams County by 20 sheriffs, it has been quite interesting to follow the progress from a one-man office in 1871 to the present Adams County Sheriff's Office, which has eighteen deputies, seventeen corrections/communication staff, ten support staff and twenty-five vehicles.

The current Jail Administrator is Deputy Michael Doremus, the first jail administrator for Adams County was the Sheriff. The Sheriff and the Chief Deputy oversee all aspects of the Sheriff's Department. The Jail Administrator oversees the day-to-day jail operations. The Sheriff also has an Asst. Administrative Secretary.

ADMINISTRATIVE UNIT – This unit operates with one Segreant and 3 certified deputies along with 3 full time support staff. The unit is responsible for Civil Process, Warrants, Distress Warrants, Court Security and prisoner escorts to court, Sex Offender Registry, and general courthouse security, responding to alarms within the courthouse and courtrooms as needed.

The Civil Process Division is handled by two full time staff members and overseen by the Segreant. Paper service is one of the first responsibilities of the Sheriff. Civil paper service, tax foreclosures replevins orders, executions, are just some of the very important responsibilities of this division. On average the civil process divisions handles and serves approximately 6,000 civil papers a year and our warrant division receive on average 1,000 warrants a year.

Currently Adams County has over 100+ registered sex offenders registered as living within Adams County that are monitored by the unit to assure their compliance with the sex offender statues.

On a weekly basis this unit will escort many inmates to and from court. Our jail is now located at 1335 W M St. and some of our hearings can be accomplished by zoom.

This unit is also responsible for receiving gun permits, then doing the back ground checks and either approving or denying the permit. We also are responsible for completing vehicle inspections both at the Courthouse and in the community.

ROAD PATROL UNIT - This unit operates with 15 certified deputies, three of which are Sergeants that supervise those under their command. Our main area of responsibility is responding to calls to the public, civil process assistance, traffic enforcement, accident investigation, village ordinance enforcement, and much more.

On average this unit will respond to approximately 300 calls for service every month and are also responsible for following up with investigations when necessary.

Our road patrol unit also assists with civil process and are assigned papers for collection and assist with foreclosure duties.

INVESTIGATIONS UNIT - This unit operates with one full-time certified investigator. Some of the areas of responsibility within the Investigations Unit are investigating crimes ranging from theft to homicide.

The investigator(s) assist deputies with their follow ups and conducts independent investigations also assisting the surrounding agencies with criminal investigation.

CORRECTIONS/COMMUNICATIONS UNIT - This unit operates with 40+ employees. This unit has a Jail Administrator and an Assistant Jail Administrator that supervise this unit. Some of their responsibilities include the security of the Adams County Jail and its inmates, inmate care and enforcement, and much more. In this unit, Officers serve as both Corrections and Dispatchers and they handle all 911 calls, calls for service, communications for the county, and radio traffic for our deputy's. On average, we receive over 140 phone calls per day during business hours. These phone calls range in nature from people checking on their loved ones in the jail to calls for service that the deputies respond to.

The jail processed and booked approximately 1000 prisoners this past year. The new jail has a maximum capacity of 150 inmates of both male and females.

EMPLOYEES

Each Deputy is given a badge number when they are hired. Badge numbers for the Sheriff's Departments in Nebraska begin with the number "9" then the next number is the county number, for Adams County it is "14" the following numbers are the Deputy's badge number.
